

Your freedom is at stake!

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is supposed to act in the best interests of the American people. However, the FDA systematically and aggressively prohibits nutritional supplement companies from listing the disease prevention and treatment characteristics of nutritional supplements.

Rather than placing the burden of proof upon the government to show, conclusively, that nutritional supplements do not help prevent and treat disease, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) aggressively violates the 1st amendment and assumes as fact that nutritional claims are false, rather than having to prove that they are false. The Constitution of the United States specifically requires that the government prove a statement to be false before restricting free speech. The FTC is acting in direct violation of the Constitution, restricting your access to important and potentially life-saving information.

Please join in signing a petition to be presented before Congress to demand that the government stop violating your right to a free exchange of information and ideas on nutritional supplements!
