

New Face Solution

1.7 oz (50 ml)

Item Catalog Number: 01000

Have you noticed that celebrities who take care of themselves appear to age more slowly than their chronological years indicate? Aggressive intervention enables the facial tissues of maturing people to have a far younger appearance.

Life Extension® has identified a topical facial formula that, until now, was confined to a private anti-aging medical practice. Some of the key ingredients in this formula are not found in department store skin care products — while others cost so much in commercial preparations, they are unaffordable to most people. The name of this anti-aging topical formula is New Face Solution. It contains a blend of ingredients that rapidly smooth the appearance of wrinkles and soften, refine, and rejuvenate aging skin.

One unique component in New Face Solution is a synthetic snake venom peptide that helps facial muscles look more relaxed. Another set of peptides reduces the appearance of wrinkles and fine lines while helping the skin to appear more elastic and thick. Additional peptides found in New Face Solution nourish collagen and elastin matrices.

To further induce the appearance of instant skin-firming, New Face Solution contains a marine, collagen-based ingredient, while an algae-based extract provides the appearance of skin-firming effects with regular use. A novel complex of amino acids functions to reduce the appearance of existing facial lines. Even the base of New Face Solution incorporates an advanced “restructured pure water” technology that creates smaller clusters of aqua molecules, resulting in better hydration and absorption of ingredients.

In addition to these novel ingredients, the paraben-free New Face Solution provides nutrients that were long ago shown to reduce the appearance of the signs of aging when topically applied, such as vitamins C and E, hyaluronic acid, and white tea extract. The New Face Solution comes in a base of 0.1% estriol and 0.5% DHEA.

New Face Solution contains a natural estrogen compound. Studies indicate that this natural estrogen compound, when administered topically to the face, provides localized benefits to aging skin. When administered topically to the face at the amount and concentration indicated, studies do not show evidence for significant increases in systemic estrogen levels or significant effects upon gynecological tissues.
